

I was born without regard to gender

When I was in elementary school, I would forget my tracksuit, and someone would lend me a red one without me even asking.

I always had a habit of pulling my pants up so they would ride up my butt, so when I put them on, the boys around me would say, "They're riding up!" but I didn't understand what they meant at all, so I just acted normally. I still wear leggings that way now.

Skirts are a real eyesore for those around me because of my chubby thighs, so if I wear a skirt, I wear a tight skirt.

While it's usually possible to determine someone's gender after seeing them once, in my case, even after several years, I still can't be sure... and that's where I am now.

If I were to buy a new car, this is how I would buy it
